Washington DC

Located in the trendy Adams Morgan neighborhood of Washington, DC right off of Columbia Road, The Silva is a large and popular apartment building complex.

The Silva has an array of over 170 studio, 1, and 2 bedroom apartments with an enormous amount of amenities for its residents including a rooftop with a swimming pool, grilling areas, and a private courtyard. It was also built to LEED v4 standards throughout its construction, creating a contemporary and efficient building design.

This 10 story building is clad in 47,000 square feet of Krono Clay Nature porcelain panels. Porcelanosa has developed some of the most advanced solutions in facade designs, which provides the building with a unique and modern design that keeps in mind the drainage, ventilation, and fluctuating external temperatures that the building has to withstand.
